Ellensburg High Alumni Invited To Homecoming

Attention all graduates of Ellensburg High School! Students of EHS are planning the second annual homecoming for October 25 to 26. The two days events will start with a gaint serpentine from the high school on the night of October. 25.

The serpentine will end with a huge bonfire and pep rally with singings, yells, and a greeting from the homecoming royalty. On Friday morning, the students will present an assembly for the student body and especially for all alumni.

Friday evening will climax homecoming with the traditional football game, the game this year is with Marquette High School of Yakima. The game will be played at 8 o'clock under the lights unless the power shortage makes an afternoon game necessary.

After the game, an Alum-Student dance will be held at the YMCA. Invitations will be in the mail this week and they will admit all alumni and their dates, wives, husbands, or what have you.

Watch the local newspaper and keep tuned to KXLE for the latest on the 1951 Homecoming at Ellensburg High School.

HARLEY JONES

The fact that "Anna and the King of Siam" was and is a good story can probably best be illustrated by the simple statement that Richard Rogers and Oscar Hammerstein III have chosen the story for their latest musical adaptation.

The RH factor in this case is definitely not negative, for these two artists are not exactly in the habit of producing flops: (Remember So Pacific" and "Oklahoma"?) The movie is booked for 7:30 Saturday, and here is the story:

Rex Harrison seems to dominate the diet here, for the second straight. However, you'll no doubt agree with me that his performance as the king in this 20th Century film seems incredible when compared to his work in "Men Are Not Gods."

Whether or not Irene Dune, who co-stars, is the inspiration for the improvement is speculation, but the film was good enough to be judged one of the ten best of its year when it was released quite a while ago. It is old, but it is good.

Of course, you might not like the movie—but that is a matter of taste. The story is that of an Englishwoman who attempts to westernize the King of Siam, and even through Hollywood's admittedly dim eyes, it is fairly good. You'd better sit in at least for the first reel or two, until you can see what it's like.

SGA movies are due for a pickup before the year is half gone, and it will largely be the result of Les Kramer's work. He has a good supply of excellent ideas, and has spent hours from a busy schedule in working on

by Shirley Olson

Sophomore! Were you at our class meeting last Thursday at 4 p. m.? If you weren't, take special notice and read this article naming the persons that will be leading our class through the coming year.

Last year's freshmen class president, Bud Kuhlman presided over the meeting until Gary Springer was elected to hold the office of sophomore class president.

Gary immediately opened the nominations for the office of vice president, at which time Marshal Keating was elected to fill the job.

Marilyn Green was elected secretary. Treasurer is Marilyn Sneve and Bub Kuhlman and Yoshi Yonekawa will act as social commissioners.

Do you want to help on a homecoming committee for the sophomore class? If you do contact the person who is in charge of the one that interests you most—we need your help!

Pat Dunlap and Gordy Adams will be in charge of the float, Kenny Wilson and Jane Deaver are co-chairmen of the sign committee; and Bob White and Dick Hawkins will pro-

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

No. 24 THE CLAM

Fresh out of Bivalve, N. J., he arrived on the campus all bug-eyed and his big mouth hanging open. He was immediately sucked into a "shell game" and found himself making all the quick-trick cigarette tests. But his native instinct told him that such an important item as cigarette mildness couldn't be tossed off lightly. Millions of smokers everywhere have discovered, too, that there's but one true test of mildness.

It's the sensible test... the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as your steady smoke...on a pack-after-pack basis. No snap judgments! Once you've tried Camels for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), you'll see why...

After all the Mildness Tests—

Cats Drop PLC Tussle

Pacific Lutheran's 1951 Homecoming was a success—at least as far as the football game was concerned. The Lutes, sparked by the passing of Frank Karowski and the running of Bill Stringfellow and Art Swanson, and helped by a couple of pass interceptions, thumped the Central Washington Wildcats 25-0 in muddy Lincoln bowl last Saturday.

Glads Score In First Quarter

The Gladiators got off to a running start in the first quarter as halfback George Nowanick intercepted one of Johnny Cavallini's passes and returned it to the PLC 45. A couple of line smashes later, Stringfellow reeled off a 30 yard run to bring the Lutes down to the Central five. Karowski then pitched out to Swanson, who galloped over into paydirt.

The Lutes went wild in the fourth period when the Wildcats opened up in an effort to score, and their strategy backfired.

Huffman Intercepts Cat Pass

Big Glen Huffman intercepted another of Cavallini's pitches and returned it to the Central 30. Stringfellow ripped through the Cat line for a quick first down, then hit it again for four. A pitchout to Swanson took the ball to the 10, but a holding penalty against the Lutes set them back momentarily. Karowski hit Swanson with a pass on the four, and on the next play, Swanson took it over.

Only a couple of minutes later the Lutes hit paydirt again, again as the result of an intercepted pass, and an unnecessary roughness penalty against the Cats, which put the ball on the Cat 17. Substitute back Roger Madsen lugged the leather over from there.

A Central fumble on the PLC 41 set up the Lutes' last score. From there, they smashed their way down to the Cat 20, where another unnecessary roughness penalty on the Centralites moved the ball to the five. Karowski hit Swanson in the end zone with a pass for the score.

Cats Threaten Once

Central's only real threat came in the opening minutes of the second half. Lute halfback Swanson fumbled on the PLC 35 and Dave Duclaw recovered for the Cats. Cavallini hit right halfback Dick Barrett with a pass for 15 yards and a first down. Then a series of line smashes by fullback Earl Miller, Bob Propst, and Barrett advanced the ball to the Lute 30. From there Cavillini pitched to end Chuck Mitchelon on the 15. Line smashes took the ball to the 10, but there the Cats' attack bogged down and the Gladiators took over on downs.

Bright spots for Carmody's Cats were the hard line plunging of Bob Propst, the sterling linebacking of Ted Lea and Bob Hibbard, who, incidentally, played the whole game on defense in spite of a badly separated shoulder; and the line play of Newt Kier, Bill Repenshek, Wayne King, and Darrell Johnson.

Whits To Test Cats In Friday Melee

The ever-dangerous Whitworth Pirates invade the Cats' lair this Friday night at the Rodeo arena in what may prove to be one whale of a ball game.

Coach L. G. Carmody will put his passing ace John Cavallini against the Pirates Ed Kretz and a running attack sparked by Bob Propst and Earl Miller against the Spokane eleven's strong ground game.

Whitworth currently rests at the bottom of the Evergreen heap with Central with no victories in 2 starts thus far. The Whits lost their first tussle to a strong PLC eleven 13-6 and then last week bowed to CPS 31-19. This was the largest score registered against the Sounders thus far and tabs the Pirates no push over.

The Whits work out of the T featuring the able arm of Ed Kretz flipping the leather to his backs or ends with plenty of success. The duo of Kretz to Sam Adams led the nation in small college completions two years ago.

The Cats will go into the Whitworth fray in pretty fair physical shape, with perhaps the possible absence of qb Ted Lea. Lea suffered a badly cut forehead at PLC Saturday and may not be ready by game time.

Sportrait Of A Wildcat

A topnotch punter, a good field general, and a terrific linebacker are the qualities which make up big Ted Lea, a Carmody blockbuster from Aberdeen High. A quarterback on the Wild Cat eleven, Ted sees action every Saturday on both offense and defense. Equipped with the exceptional ability to call the right play at the right time, the big guy is a valuable asset to a team which is definitely on the upgrade. A real team player with lots of savvy, Ted is the best punter on the squad, and although he seldom runs the ends, he passes well and moves up the middle like a Sherman tank. He hits like one too. This year Lea is playing a lot of defensive ball and can really back up that line.

A husky lad, standing six feet two and weighting 210 pounds, Ted is a veteran of many gridiron campaigns. At Aberdeen high school he operated for 3 years from behind the center in that school's T system. An excellent high school quarterback, Ted was chosen all conference his senior year. A loyal son of Aberdeen, Ted played his first two College years right in his own backyard. He quarterbacked the Grays Harbor Junior College griders and garnered the Junior College all conference quarterback job his last year.

SPORTS PLANTS

Lutes 25, Central 0. Various and sundry persons on the campus will no doubt look for me to either come out with a big alibi about the score or a stinging cut at the team and coaching staff for dropping another game. Sorry friends, I'm attacking from another spot—the spot we might neglect to notice. I wonder just how much each of us is genuinely interested in just what happens out on that 100 yards of turf each Saturday. How many of us attend the home games and games away from home to give that squad a little moral support? How many of us attend pep assemblies and rallies to lend our falsetto or basso profundo to the various cheers led by the three cheer leaders? Stop a minute and think about this game of football that we've been watching these past few weeks. Look at the mortality side of it. At least three men hobbling around on crutches several others in various stages of recovery. How would we as a coach keep our boys up for each game after successive defeats? That would be a had one. Yet, if you hike out onto the Tomlinson turf each week, that same team of fellows is digging in for a crack at what they hope will be next week's victim. And last week's injuries from a rough contest are out there trying to fool themselves and the coach that they will be ready for next week. It takes a bit more than just a desire for that block W to keep coming back and trying. Next week the Cats take on the Whitworth Pirates at Rodeo field. A little pep, noise, a "good luck" to the team and a big turnout may surprise us all. How about it?
